Craft, creativity and fun in the sun at bunny bonanza

Children and families gathered in beautiful sunshine to enjoy our brilliant infant Easter Bunny Bonanza. A host of entertaining and educational activities were enjoyed by all. Thanks to everyone who helped to make the event such a success and to all who came along. 🐰🐰 ‘Ear, ‘Ear!

Three cheers for footballers as they head to Holland for Easter festival

It was an early start for these footballers and their coaches as they set off on an early-morning flight to Holland to take part in an international Easter football tournament at the weekend.

Culter Alba, part of Culter Youth football club, took two 2010 boys’ teams to the event, including three players from Milltimber’s P4: Daniel, Calum and Caelan.

The boys did their school and families proud. Look out for more news and pictures in The Buzz next week.
The P7 project begins to build and design their Goblin electric tracing car. The young engineers, supported by Subsea7, are getting to grips with the challenge. STEM stands for Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics. Greenpower Education Trust is a charity which inspires young people about STEM subjects by challenging them to design, build and race an electric car.

This day trip was one of a number of visits to the zoology department planned for classes from our school!

P1/2 visited the impressive University of Aberdeen Zoology Museum. They loved using their senses in the gardens and seeing, touching and learning about lots of animals. The university facility is a fantastic place to learn as it incorporates the Aberdeen Biodiversity Centre and Cruickshank Botanic Gardens.

We love an Easter challenge
P1/2 also enjoyed using nature to complete their Easter egg challenge in the sun.

Lindsey is badminton champion... again!
Well done to former pupil Lindsey who successfully defended her under-17s singles badminton title and went onto win the doubles and mixed doubles titles as well.

The countdown is on... pupils get set to build and race their electric car!
From scuba diving to drama at the airport, Miss Prentice loves a travelling adventure!

In the latest in our series, we introduce you to some of the people who help to make Milltimber School a great place to be. This week, we find out some of Miss Prentice’s favourite things…

Name: Lynsey Prentice
Job: Primary School Teacher, P3/4
I grew up in: Selkirk in the Scottish Borders and Zagreb, Croatia
Education: The University of Glasgow, Postgraduate Diploma in Education

The best bit about my work:
I love it when my pupils think outside the box and use their creativity to solve problems. It inspires me every day!

Three things that you probably won’t know about me:

1) I am always tested for explosives at the airport!
2) I have been lucky enough to scuba dive at American and Japanese World War 2 wreck sites in the South Pacific.
3) I am currently working towards my Master of Education qualification with the University of Glasgow.

We look forward to seeing as many of you as possible at this week’s parent-teacher consultations. They take place between 3.30pm and 6.30pm this Wednesday and Thursday. An art exhibition will be on display in the hall, featuring artwork from all classes. Our Parent Council will also be seeking your views on homework as part of a review of our homework policy.

That’s it for this week’s edition of The Buzz. Let us know what you think of our newsletter and if you have something to share. Contact kay@marblesccc.com with your news and views… We’ll be back soon!
